The CalFresh Restaurant Meals Program or RMP is a program that allows CalFresh recipients who are 60 years of age or older, have a disability, or are displaced to use their CalFresh benefits to purchase hot, prepared food from participating California State University Campus restaurants or dining halls. See the eligibility factors below for more information.

STUDENTS WHO MAY QUALIFY INCLUDE

Have CalFresh
The Restaurant Meals Program is part of CalFresh. To be potentially eligible for the Restaurant Meals Program, you must either already be receiving CalFresh benefits or apply for CalFresh benefits and fit into one of the following three categories:

Older Adults
Older adults are students who are 60 years of age or older.

Those with a Disability
This category includes students with a disability through social security, veteran students with a service based disability, or students who receive disability payments though the Railroad Retirement Act.

Displaced
The term displaced refers to students without a stable living situation. This includes those who are couch surfing, living in a car, shelter, halfway house, or other living situation that is not ordinarily used for sleeping.
