Flag Ceremony Instructions

Display, Customs, and Care of the American Flag

- The U.S. flag always occupies a position of honor
  - Carried in a procession, the U.S. flag is positioned to the right of other flags or is in front of other flags.
- When displayed, the U.S. flag must be to the flag’s own right (the audience’s left).
- When groups with other flags (i.e. state, World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts, Girl Scouts of the USA, Council, etc.), should be at the center, in front of, or higher than the other flag.
- When with another flag on crossed staffs, should be on the flag’s own right, and its staff should be in front of the staff of the other flag.
- When with the flags of two or more nations, should be flown on separate staffs of the same height. International usage forbids the display of the flag of one nation above that of another nation in time of peace.
- The U.S. flag flies (held or on the flagpole) longer than other flags:
  - Indoors – it is presented first and posted last.
  - Outdoors – it is raised first and lowered last.

The Color Guard of Honor

- The purpose of the Color Guard of Honor is to protect the flag. Because this requires full attention, the members do not participate in any part of the flag ceremony (singing, speaking, etc.) but stand silently “At Attention.”

- The Color Guard may consist of any number. Ideally there should be at least two Color Guards for each flag. The minimum is one Color (Flag) Bearer and one Color Guard.

- Color (or Flag) Bearer: One per flag, if more than one flag is present. Hold staff (pole) at 30° angle in front of body, or hold folded flag (with point away from body) in front of body at waist level. Girls may wear a red sash over her right shoulder, tied in a square knot on the left side of her waist. Is responsible for putting flag in, or taking flag from, stand, or raising/lowering flag from flag pole.

- Color Guards: Stand on each side of the Color Bearer. Watch to see that the flag does not touch the ground. May wear a red sash around her waist tied in a square knot on her left side. One or more members may assist flag bearer in posting/retrieving the flag from the stand/pole.

- Caller: Only member of Color Guard to speak. Gives directions to audience and commands to Color Guard. Girls may wear red sashes, same as Color Guard.

- Line Leaders: Usually part of an outdoor Color Guard. Lead the audience into/out of the desired formation (usually a horseshoe in Girl Scouts).
