NEW SCHOLARSHIP OPPORTUNITY
AVAILABLE TO HIGH SCHOOL TEACHERS

Thanks to grant funding from Code.org & the Department of Education, we have new scholarships available for AP CS Principles teachers who meet the following requirements:

- Accepted into the CS Principles Professional Learning program and registered to attend the five-day in-person workshop in:
  - Austin, Dallas/Fort Worth, or San Antonio (July 13-17, 2020)
  - El Paso or the Rio Grande Valley (July 20-24, 2020)

- Committed to attending eight 90-minute virtual workshops during the academic year (dates and times will be available based on your time zone)

- Teaching the AP CS Principles course to at least one section of students grade 9-12 in the 2020-21 school year

The ideal scholarship recipient is teaching CS for the first time in 2020-21, or expanding the CS course offerings at their school where the student population is:

- 50% or greater underrepresented minorities
- 50% or greater eligible for free-and-reduced-meals for non-rural schools, alternatively 40% or greater for rural schools

Priority will be given to teachers in rural districts.

Interested in learning more? Complete the teacher application and reach out to Amy Carrell to share your interest in being considered for this program.

APPLICATION PAGE