consequence

(noun) a result or effect of something undernourished
(adjective) without enough food for health or growth extract (verb) to remove modify

(verb) to make changes to, to alter
DNA

(noun) an abbreviated name for deoxyribonucleic acid, the part of plants and animals that carries genetic information inside each cell