voluntary

(adjective) by one’s own choice; not forced literacy

(noun) the ability to read and write impose (verb) to force somebody to accept allocate

(verb) to set apart for a specific purpose; to distribute rigid

(adjective) strict or unbending