Questions to Consider for GRE Discussion

What are the qualities of a successful graduate student in your program? These may be academic skills and abilities, life experiences, or other attributes (such as grit or resilience) that contribute to a student’s successful completion of the program.

What parts of the application are useful for identifying and evaluating the qualities identified above?

How does your graduate admissions process ensure a holistic review of each applicant?

How is diversity included within your holistic review of applicants?

As peer institutions eliminate or consider eliminating GRE scores from their admissions requirements, how might retaining a GRE requirement impact your applicant pool and your ability to successfully recruit top applicants?

How have you utilized GRE scores in your graduate admissions process in prior years?

What is the benefit to your program of requiring the GRE?
