

ATTN: International Tax Reform Working Group

Dear Representative Nunes and Blumenaur,

I am writing to ask that the International Taxation Committee of the Ways & Means Committee for Tax Reform seriously consider the ACA proposal for reform to Residency-based taxation RBT. See link:

As one of nearly 7 million American citizens living, working and voting from abroad, and contributing to the economic growth of the U.S. economy, I believe the current Citizenship based taxation regime must be reformed. Current tax policy is negatively affecting this important sector of Americans and their ability to compete for jobs, grow the US economy through international business and exports, and live overseas. Current tax policy damages both individuals and the welfare of our country.

The following are some examples of the fallout on Americans working overseas from current U.S. Citizenship based taxation:

- Inability to relocate and work internationally
- Denial of job opportunities or job advancement
- Refusal of entry into business partnerships
- Closure or denial of financial instruments (pensions, insurance policies, bank accounts, etc.)
- Exposure to double taxation or increased tax burden
- Financially ruinous penalties due to broad application of criminal tax evasion regulations on those making simple filing errors due to complexity of the US tax code.

I have been personally affected by this situation. Two banks have forced us to close our checking accounts with them because of the extreme reporting requirements and penalties they would be subject to by having American customers. Our US-based brokerage firm took away the credit cards attached to our money-market fund making it very difficult to buy products made and sold in America. They said it was because we live outside of the US.

In addition, friends and colleagues here in Germany are astounded that I must pay taxes in America on my German earned income although I am a legal resident of Germany. Besides all the unfair income taxes we pay, we also have to pay a US tax adviser an incredible amount of money to complete the very difficult tax forms required only for Americans abroad.

Please seriously consider the RBT proposal submitted by American Citizens Abroad (ACA). A move towards a residence-based system, like the rest of the world, not only would it be simpler and fairer for Americans living abroad, but it would actually bring in MORE tax revenue than the current system, which wastes compliance resources for very little return. RBT would increase United States exports strongly by facilitating American mobility in the global business environment of today's world.

Yours sincerely,

Phyllis Carter
