F-1 International Organization work permission is a type of employment authorization for F-1 students who have been offered an internship with a recognized international organization. Such organizations include the International Monetary Fund, the World Bank, the Organization of American States, United Nations, IFC and others.

When Should I Apply?
Apply at least 3 months before employment begins.

Who is Eligible?
Students who have been offered an internship position by a recognized international organization.

How Can I Apply?
1. Submit IO Application to OGS
   - Job Offer Letter from Approved International Organization
   - Copy of I-94 record (https://i94.cbp.dhs.gov/)
   - Complete the International Organization Request Form
     - internationalservices.georgetown.edu/io/
   - Processing Time: 3-5 business days: OGS will issue you a new I-20

2. Submit Application to USCIS
   - Form G-1145 (for electronic receipt - uscis.gov)
   - Filing Fee: Personal check, cashier’s check or money order
   - Job Offer Letter
   - Two passport-style photos
   - Form I-765 (uscis.gov)
   - Copy of new I-20 (with your signature and IO recommendation)
   - Copies of all previous I-20s
   - Copies of previous EADs (if any)
   - Copy of passport biographic page
   - Copy of I-94 card (front & back) or automated I-94 record
   - Copy of F-1 visa
   - https://i94.cbp.dhs.gov/
For students who do not have an SSN, OGS recommends answering "No" to item 10 and continuing with item 14. OGS recommends applying for the SSN separately after the EAD card is received and the start date is current until we verify the new collaboration between USCIS and the Social Security Administration.