I. Purpose
The Middle States Commission on Higher Education (MSCHE or Commission) seeks to ensure fair, equitable, and consistent actions on accreditation. The purpose of these procedures is to implement the Commission’s Accreditation Actions Policy which establishes the types of actions available to the Commission. Additional information about reviews, reports, and visits related to the application process can be found in Accreditation Activities Guidelines.

II. Application and Determination of Candidacy Actions
A. The Commission will make a determination about a pre-applicant institution following a pre-applicant review.
   1. To allow the institution to submit an application when the pre-applicant institution has demonstrated that it meets the minimum requirements.
   2. To decline to review the application because the pre-applicant institution has not demonstrated that it meets the minimum requirements. This is not an adverse action and therefore, not subject to appeal. After taking at least one year to review its readiness and make necessary changes and improvements, the institution may choose to submit a new Pre-Applicant Minimum Requirements Report and Pre-Applicant Inquiry Fee.

B. The Commission will make a determination about an applicant institution following an application review.
   1. The Commission may acknowledge receipt of the Accreditation Readiness Report (ARR), request the submission of an updated ARR and direct an Applicant Assessment Team Visit when the institution appears to demonstrate compliance with the Commission’s standards for accreditation, requirements of affiliation, policies and procedures, and applicable federal regulatory requirements and the institution is ready to host an Applicant Assessment Team Visit.
   2. The Commission may acknowledge receipt of the ARR and request a supplemental information report (SIR) when the institution appears to demonstrate compliance with the Commission’s standards for accreditation, requirements of affiliation, policies and procedures, and applicable federal regulatory requirements but the Commission needs further evidence that the institution is addressing recommendations before the Applicant Assessment Team Visit should take place.

3. The Commission may reject the ARR when the institution does not appear to demonstrate compliance with the Commission’s standards for accreditation, requirements of affiliation, policies and procedures, and applicable federal regulatory requirements. This is not an adverse action and therefore, not subject to appeal. After taking at least one year to review its readiness and make necessary changes and improvements, the institution may choose to submit a new Pre-Applicant Minimum Requirements Report and Pre-Applicant Inquiry Fee.

C. The Commission may Grant Candidate for Accreditation status to an applicant institution when the institution appears to meet all of the standards for accreditation, requirements of affiliation, policies and procedures, and applicable federal regulatory requirements.

1. The Commission will invite the institution to initiate the self-study evaluation in accordance with the Commission’s Accreditation Review Cycle and Monitoring Policy and Procedures.
2. The action may stipulate that the institution emphasize specific areas in the self-study report.
3. The Commission will set a deadline by which the self-study evaluation and on-site evaluation visit must occur so that the decision to grant or deny accreditation is made within the five-year period of candidacy established under federal regulation 34 CFR § 602.16(a)(2).
4. The Commission will take a separate action on the teach-out plan and teach-out agreements which must be submitted by the Candidate institution in accordance with Commission policy and procedures and federal regulation 34 CFR § 602.23(f)(1)(ii).
5. The action will note that the institution may not be in Candidacy for more than five years before the grant of accreditation in accordance with federal regulation 34 CFR § 602.16(a)(2).

D. The Commission may Grant Accreditation to a Candidate institution.

1. The institution will undergo its next Self-Study Evaluation in accordance with the assigned accreditation review cycle as defined in Accreditation Review Cycle and Monitoring Policy and Procedures.
2. Upon the grant of accreditation, the Commission will apply a retroactive date of accreditation back to the date of Candidacy in accordance with federal regulation 34 CFR § 602.18(b)(6) and for the benefit of students to facilitate transfer, eligibility for licensure, and to serve other purposes. The retroactive date of accreditation is only available to institutions granted accreditation after July 1, 2020.
3. The action may stipulate that the institution emphasize specific areas in the next self-study report.
4. The Commission may request further evidence in conjunction with each Annual Institutional Update (AIU) until the next Self-Study Evaluation, when the institution is in compliance but the Commission determines that some additional oversight is needed to ensure that the institution is attentive to Commission recommendations.
III. Reaffirmation Actions
A. The Commission may Reaffirm Accreditation when the institution appears to meet all of the Commission standards for accreditation, requirements of affiliation, policies and procedures, and applicable federal regulatory requirements.
   1. The institution will undergo its next Self-Study Evaluation in accordance with the accreditation review cycle as defined in Accreditation Review Cycle and Monitoring Policy and Procedures.
   2. The action may stipulate that the institution emphasize specific areas in the next self-study report.
   3. The action may require that the institution complete ongoing monitoring activities as outlined in Accreditation Review Cycle and Monitoring Policy and Procedures.
      a. The Commission may request further evidence in conjunction with each Annual Institutional Update (AIU) until the next Self-Study Evaluation, when the institution is in compliance but the Commission determines that some additional oversight is needed to ensure that the institution is attentive to Commission recommendations.
      b. The Commission may request a supplemental information report (SIR) when the institution is in compliance but the Commission determines that some additional oversight is needed to ensure that the institution is attentive to Commission recommendations.
         i. The reaffirmed institution may be asked to prepare one or more follow-up reports on a schedule set by the Commission.
         ii. The action will specify the due date and which Commission standards for accreditation, requirements of affiliation, policies and procedures, or applicable federal regulatory requirements must be addressed.
         iii. The SIR may or may not be followed by a follow-up team visit.
B. The Commission may Reaffirm Accreditation following a non-compliance action when the institution has provided evidence that demonstrates that it appears to meet all of the Commission standards for accreditation, requirements of affiliation, policies and procedures, or applicable federal regulatory requirements within 36 months as allowed under federal regulation 34 CFR §602.20(a)(2).
   1. A monitoring report is required for an affirming action that follows a non-compliance action.
   2. The monitoring report will be followed by a follow-up team visit for reaffirmation after probation or show cause actions.
   3. The monitoring report may or may not be followed by a follow-up team visit for reaffirmation after warning actions.
   4. The Commission may request further evidence in conjunction with each Annual Institutional Update (AIU) until the next Self-Study Evaluation or MPPR whichever comes first, when the institution is in compliance but the Commission determines that some additional oversight is needed to ensure that the institution is attentive to Commission recommendations.
   5. The Commission may stipulate that the institution emphasize specific areas in the next self-study report.
   6. The institution will undergo its next Self-Study Evaluation in accordance with the accreditation review cycle as defined in Accreditation Review Cycle and Monitoring Policy and Procedures.
IV. Non-Compliance Actions
A. The Commission may issue a warning or continue to warn an institution that it’s accreditation may be in jeopardy when, in the Commission’s judgment, the institution does not appear to be in compliance with one or more Commission standards for accreditation, requirements of affiliation, policies and procedures, or applicable federal regulatory requirements but:
   1. The institution appears to demonstrate the capacity to make appropriate improvements and return to compliance within 36 months as allowed under federal regulation 34 CFR § 602.20(a)(2); and
   2. The institution appears to demonstrate the capacity to sustain itself in the long term.
B. The Commission may place an institution on probation or may continue probation and note that the institution’s accreditation is in jeopardy when, in the Commission’s judgment, the institution does not appear to be in compliance with one or more Commission standards for accreditation, requirements of affiliation, policies and procedures, or applicable federal regulatory requirements, and there is evidence that the non-compliance is sufficiently serious, extensive or substantial that it raises concern about one or more of the following:
   1. The quality of the student learning experience provided by the institution;
   2. The institution’s capacity to make appropriate improvements within a short period of time;
   3. The institution’s capacity to sustain itself in the long term such that a teach-out plan is required; or
   4. Information collected through the Commission’s monitoring activities suggests that there are serious concerns related to student achievement, viability and capacity, or financial health.
C. The following procedures apply to both warning and probation.
   1. While the initial non-compliance period is 36 months, the Commission retains the authority to take any action at any point during this period of time. A sequence of action is not required (e.g., warning need not precede probation; the next action following warning may be show cause).
   2. An institution placed on warning or probation will prepare one or more monitoring reports on a schedule set by the Commission. The schedule of reporting will be determined by the Commission, and will be based on the nature and complexity of the areas of non-compliance, and the stated mission and educational objectives of the institution in accordance with federal regulation 34 CFR 602.20(a)(2).
   3. The monitoring report must provide evidence demonstrating that the institution appears to be in compliance with the identified standards for accreditation, requirements of affiliation, policies and procedures, or applicable federal regulatory requirements.
   4. A follow-up team visit always will follow submission of the monitoring report for a non-compliance action.
   5. The Commission action also will direct a Commission Liaison Guidance Visit. Other staff and/or Commission representatives may accompany the Commission staff liaison or conduct the visit.
   6. The Commission will request a teach-out plan and possibly teach-out agreements in accordance with the Commission’s Teach-Out Plans and Agreements Policy and Procedures.
   7. An action to continue to warn the institution or to continue probation will specify any areas of non-compliance that have been remedied, continued areas of non-

1. The action will require a show cause report and a show cause visit and will specify the due date and which Commission standards for accreditation, requirements of affiliation, policies and procedures, or applicable federal regulatory requirements must be addressed.

2. The show cause action will direct a commission liaison guidance visit. Other staff and/or Commission representatives may accompany the Commission staff liaison or conduct the visit.

3. A show cause action requires an accredited institution to present its case as to why its accreditation should not be withdrawn by means of a show cause report. In order for the institution to be reaffirmed, the show cause report must provide evidence that the institution has made all necessary improvements and meets fully the Commission’s standards for accreditation, requirements of affiliation, policies and procedures, and applicable federal regulatory requirements.

4. An on-site show cause visit will follow submission of the show cause report. The purpose of the show cause visit is to verify the information provided in the show cause report and verify the institution’s ongoing and sustainable compliance.

5. The action will require the submission of a teach-out plan and if applicable teach-out agreement(s). The teach-out plan and agreements must be submitted in accordance with the Commission’s Teach-Out Plans and Agreements Policy and Procedures.

6. The institution may appear before the Commission when the Commission meets to consider the institution’s Show Cause in accordance with the Commission’s procedures Show Cause Appearance Before the Commission Prior to Withdrawal of Accreditation.

A decision to grant an extension for good cause is made at the sole discretion of the Commission and is not subject to appeal. Extension for good cause is not available to candidate institutions.

1. The Commission may continue an accredited institution’s warning, probation, or show cause status and extend for good cause beyond the original 36-month time period as allowed under federal regulation 34 CFR § 602.20(a)(3).

2. The Commission will set the length of the extension for good cause not to exceed one year.

3. The Commission will consider quality written and compelling evidence of one of more the following in making its decision to grant or deny an extension for good cause:

   b. Evidence that the institution has complied with all Commission policies and procedure.

   c. Evidence of a comprehensive, implementable teach-out plan with signed teach-out agreements, if previously requested by the Commission.

   d. Evidence that the institution has demonstrated improvement and therefore the potential to remedy non-compliance issues identified by the Commission within the period of extension.

   e. Evidence describing reasonable plans to meet the Commission’s expectations for reaffirmation within the period of extension and evidence of actions taken to implement the changes that are expected to result in compliance.

   f. Evidence of support from any related entity that will contribute to ongoing institutional compliance.

   g. Evidence that the institution has made freely available to the Commission accurate, fair, and complete information on all aspects of the institution and its operations and in response to Commission requests for information.

   i. Evidence that the institution is in good standing with other accreditors.
   j. Evidence that the institution has been impacted by a natural disaster, catastrophe or other circumstances outside of the institution’s control.

4. The Commission shall act to reaffirm accreditation at the conclusion of the extension, take the adverse action, or consider a final, second extension for good cause not to exceed one year.

5. In considering whether to grant a final, second extension for good cause, in addition to the considerations in (paragraph section IV.F.3), the Commission will consider quality written and compelling evidence including but not limited to the following:
   a. Evidence that the institution has made continued and further progress in implementing changes toward achieving compliance with all Commission standards for accreditation, requirements of affiliation, policies and procedures, or applicable federal regulatory requirements.
   b. Evidence that the institution will come into compliance during this extended timeframe.
   c. Evidence that, since the first extension for good cause, the institution has made continued and further progress in one or more of the following areas, if applicable:
      i. stabilizing its financial condition;

      iii. establishing or maintaining sufficient levels of qualified staffing.

6. The institution remains accredited during any extension for good cause granted by the Commission.

7. The rationale for the Commission granting or denying an extension for good cause will appear in the Commission action.

9. The Commission shall act to reaffirm accreditation at the conclusion of the final, second extension or take the adverse action to withdraw accreditation.

V. Adverse Actions
The Commission will take an adverse action when an institution has not demonstrated compliance, has had the opportunity to show cause, and/or the 36-month allowable time period for non-compliance has expired. An institution has the right to appeal an adverse action on limited grounds pursuant to the Appeals from Adverse Accreditng Actions Procedures. The institution retains its candidate or accredited status until the effective date of withdrawal or until completion of the Commission’s appeal process, whichever is later. Membership in the Middle States Commission on Higher Education ceases when withdrawal of candidate status or accreditation becomes effective.

   2. The institution has failed to demonstrate the capacity to make required improvements;
   3. The institution has failed to demonstrate that it can sustain itself in the short or long term; or
   4. The institution has failed to demonstrate compliance within the 36-month time period established by Commission policy and procedures and federal regulation under 34 CFR §602.20(a)(2).

E. Prior to an adverse action, the Commission will require the institution to show cause in accordance with these procedures.

F. If the institution chooses not to present its case by means of a show cause report and show cause visit, or the institution does not comply with the Commission’s procedures, requests for a written report, or other information, the Commission may take an immediate adverse action in accordance with federal regulation 34 CFR § 602.20(b). An adverse action becomes final when any appeals process available to the institution is concluded under the Commission’s Appeals from Adverse Accrediting Actions Procedures.

G. When an adverse action becomes final, the Commission, in its sole discretion, shall fix the effective date that accreditation will cease.
   1. Membership in the Middle States Commission on Higher Education ceases on the effective date.

   1. The action may note that no further evidence is required at this time.
   2. The action may request further evidence in conjunction with each Annual Institutional Update until the next Self-Study Evaluation when the institution is in compliance but the Commission needs further evidence that the institution is addressing recommendations.
   3. The action may request a focused report and direct a focused team visit when a serious concern about compliance arises from the Mid-Point Peer Review. The action will specify the due date and which Commission standards for accreditation, requirements of affiliation, policies and procedures, or applicable federal regulatory requirements that must be addressed.

   5. The accreditation action may direct a substantive change site visit if a visit is required in accordance with the Substantive Change Policy and Procedures.

   2. A denial of a substantive change request is not an adverse action and therefore not subject to appeal.

G. The Commission may rescind a substantive change action if approvals from all necessary licensing, regulatory, or other legal entities are not received by the Commission, the required substantive change site visit does not take place, or if the change is not implemented by the institution within one calendar year.

H. The Commission may withdraw the institution’s substantive change upon request by the institution. Once the Commission acts on a substantive change, the opportunity to withdraw the request is no longer available.

Extraordinary circumstances include but are not limited to situations beyond the institution’s control or any situation which may put Commission representatives at risk (natural disaster or other catastrophic event, civil or political unrest in the institution’s geographic location).
   1. The Commission may grant a delay if the institution demonstrates that extraordinary circumstances exist. The action will specify the revised due date not to exceed one year from the original date.
2. The Commission may reject the request for a delay if the institution has not demonstrated that extraordinary circumstances exist.
3. If it is still not possible to conduct an appropriate review at the conclusion of the one-year delay, the Commission may, at its discretion, grant another one-year delay.

C. The Commission may, in extraordinary circumstances as defined in B, temporarily or permanently waive a specific requirement in Commission policy or procedures for a member institution. Under extraordinary circumstances, the Commission may include innovative program delivery approaches or offer an institution alternative means of satisfying the Commission’s requirements as allowed under federal regulation 34 CFR § 602.18(c)(1-4). In such circumstances, the member institution must demonstrate the need for such a waiver and ensure that students will receive equivalent benefit and will not be harmed.
