 Vicinity Map

The map does not display nonmotorized uses, overland off-highway vehicles that may not be licensed for highway use, or implying that the road, trail, or area is passable, open, or available for travel. Motor vehicle prohibition at 36 CFR 261.13. This is a limited purpose prohibition.

 Vehicular use of all roads, trails, and areas on National Forest System lands requires a permit when it involves inherent risks that may cause property damage, personal injury, or fatality. Permits are required for the conduct of wildland fires, wildland fire suppression (fire crew, fire equipment, and airline), and aerial surveying. These activities must be conducted under a permit from the Forest Service. Permits are available from the nearest Forest Service office, or by contacting the San Bernardino National Forest. Additional fees, regulations, and constraints may apply.

 The San Bernardino National Forest is remote and as such is exposed to the ever changing threats of natural disasters, including but not limited to wildland fire, flooding, and landslides. It is recommended that all users research the current conditions and expected weather.
