Orson Baldwin Found Hanged

How's that for a nice, lurid headline? Orson Baldwin, who pitched four games for the Cardinals in 1908 has been found. He hanged himself at his home in Los Angeles, February 16, 1942. Baldwin was found by the famous double play combination of Bozzone to Carle to Haber, co-winners of the October Find of the Month award. (Take that, Tinker to Evers to Chance.)

This man had been a mystery for quite some time, mainly because virtually every reference to him in Sporting Life or Sporting News referred to him as being from Ohio. The breakthrough came when Rich Bozzone found a note that said that Baldwin came from "a small town near Ionia, Michigan." I immediately went to the 1900 Michigan census and very quickly located the family in Bloomer (you don't suppose that is where the "Bloomer Girls" originated?) I called the library in Carson City, a thriving metropolis near Bloomer, and the librarian there was able to give me the death date of Baldwin's father, and the year of death of Baldwin's mother and two of his brothers. I then relayed the ball to Bill Haber, who was able to determine the death date of his brothers. The obituaries listed Orson as living in California. Bill then sent to California for a death certificate search and the death certificate was found. Great committee teamwork!

1991 Rookies

I have attached the list of 1991 rookies. Many thanks to Bill Haber and Pete Palmer for their help in compiling the list. You will notice a gaping hole in the birth city for Chito Martinez. Martinez is the first player born in Belize; however, that is all that is ever listed for him. Just like Hensley Meulens, who was born in Curacao, we need a city of birth.

In addition, we have one non-playing manager, Robert Walden Schaefer, born 05/22/1944 in Putnam, Connecticut debuted May 22 as interim manager for the Kansas City Royals. Schaefer becomes the first non-playing manager to debut on his birthday joining Yorks Perez who became the 25th player to celebrate his birthday by playing in his first major league game. There is one player who was born with a different name than the one he is currently using. Braulio Robinson Medrano Castillo was born Braulio Robinson Medrano y Castillo. He is currently using his mother's maiden name.

There are several relatives of major leaguers who debuted in 1991. Ruben Amaro, Jr. is the son of Ruben Amaro, Sr. (I'll bet that was tough to figure out.) Mark Davis is the brother of Mike Davis. Chris Haney is the son of Larry Haney. David Howard is the son of Bruce Howard. Mike Ignasiak is the brother of Gary Ignasiak. Josias Manzanillo is the brother of Ravelo Manzanillo. Andy Mota and Jose Mota are brothers and are the sons of Manny Mota. And Ed Sprague, Jr. is the son of Ed Sprague, Sr.

There were a record 192 players making their debuts in 1991, the oldest of which was Jose Escobar. He and Jose Tolentino were the only 30-year-old rookies. The youngest was designated phenom Todd Van Poppel. He and Ivan Rodriguez were the only teenagers to play in 1991. Finally, I always look for my favorite name among the rookies. It has to be Wilbur Donald Wakamatsu. Wilbur?

Does Anybody Know?

We list a 1919 player by the name of Michael Pasquariello. Rich Bozzone sent along a copy of his obituary which listed him and all his family with the last name Pasquella. Does anyone have any information on his correct name?
Notes About The Missing

Rich Topp sends along the current address for Bob Will. Bob lives in Woodstock, Illinois and is vice-president of the National Boulevard Bank in Elk Grove, Illinois. Rich tells an interesting story about how Will signed with the Cubs. Bob’s mother was Mrs. Wrigley’s seamstress and asked for a tryout for her son. I guess it pays to have connections.

Also, Joey Beretta sends along current addresses for Willard Nixon, Jim Suchecki, Lee Walls, Glen Mickens, Robert Greenwood, Brooks Lawrence, and William Bradford. Joey found these addresses in the PhoneDisc USA computerized national telephone directory. This sounds like a good tool to use although my library doesn’t have it.

Interested in Writing?

The sequel to Nineteenth Century Stars is in progress and writers are needed to write many of the biographies. This should be right up the alley of many of you. If interested, contact Fred Ivor-Campbell, 21 Martin Street, Warren, Rhode Island 02885, (401)542-5458. Fred will send you a list of available players.

New Members

Please welcome Tom Shrimplin, P.O. Box 89, Valley Falls, Kansas 66088 to the committee. Tom’s code number will be X2. Also welcome Erik Hinckley, 640 Santa Fe Road, West Palm Beach, Florida 33406. Erik’s code number will be H6.

Memories of Leo

I was saddened to hear of the death of Leo Durocher as he was always one of my favorite baseball personalities. Where else could you find a manager who was willing to sign Mr. Ed, Herman Munster, and Jethro Bodine?

In the Mr. Ed episode, Mr. Ed calls the Dodgers’ dugout at Candlestick Park to tell Leo that Moose Skowron is dropping his shoulder. Moose makes the adjustment and belts a game-winning homer. So Leo invites Ed to Dodger Stadium to give all the Dodgers pointers. After helping both Willie Davis and Johnny Roseboro, Mr. Ed picks up a bat and proceeds to hit an inside-the-park home run off Sandy Koufax. Naturally, Ed has to slide into home.

In The Munsters, Leo is walking down the street when he gets conked on the head by a baseball. After learning that the nearest ballpark is six blocks away, he searches for the guy that hit the ball. He meets Herman and invites him to Dodger Stadium for a tryout. Herman belts a ball that knocks a hole in the scoreboard and then runs through the outfield fence while catching a fly ball. A disappointed Leo tells Herman he can’t sign him because it would cost Buzzy Bavasi too much to repair the stadium each time Herman played.

On The Beverly Hillbillies, Leo discovers that Jethro can throw a 95 mile-per-hour fastball. Unfortunately, Jethro can only throw after putting possum fat on his fingers to get a better grip. (I wonder if that’s who Drysdale learned it from.) I doubt that we’ll ever see Leo’s like again.

Birthday List

There are quite a few nonagenarians celebrating birthdays in November including Tim McNamara, who is a SABR member. Be sure and send a card.

November 15  John Dobb  90
November 17  Eddie Taylor  90
November 18  James Marquis  91
November 20  Tim McNamara  93
November 22  Walter Tauscher  90
November 26  Johnny Kerr  93
November 30  Clyde Sukeforth  90

Heaven Knows, Mr. Allison

I borrowed that title from a Robert Mitchum movie because heaven knows the story behind our October Mystery of the Month, William Andrew Allison. Allison played three games for the 1872 Brooklyn Eckfords. We list him as being born September 17, 1848 and dying June 12, 1923. We don’t have a place of birth or a place of death which certainly leads one to wonder where the dates came from. To add further confusion, the latest MacMillan lists his birth as September 18, 1848 in Philadelphia. I have no idea where MacMillan got this information. If we assume that he was from Philadelphia, was he related to Art and Doug Allison? It might be tough for him to be a brother since Art was born January 29, 1849. Could someone check in Philadelphia for the dates listed and see if that is the place of birth or death? Also, does anyone know the source of any of the data we presently carry?
