Criteria for Promotion to the Rank of Senior Lecturer II

Credentials & Previous Experience:
- PhD or another appropriate terminal degree expected
- At least ten years of full-time teaching experience, at Yale or elsewhere, in a ladder or non-ladder rank, including at least five years at Yale at the rank of Senior Lecturer

Teaching:
- Recognized on campus as a model of excellence in the areas of teaching and learning; sustained and documented record of excellent teaching, which could include student ratings, peer evaluations, samples of student work that demonstrate learning, a narrative self-evaluation showing attention to teaching development, participation in teaching development programs through the Center for Teaching and Learning or elsewhere, and other forms of recognition
- Understood to be a central and essential component of department's teaching program:
  - Demonstrates extraordinary success in enriching and enhancing learning and in creating opportunities for students
  - Engages in pedagogical work such as the development of instructional resources and/or innovative teaching methods
  - Makes substantive contributions to teaching programs, which could include:
    - recognition on or beyond campus for disciplinary or cross-disciplinary pedagogy
    - development of new courses or substantial improvement of existing ones
    - significant contributions to training and mentoring graduate student teaching fellows

Service:
- Long-standing and sought-after service to the department, University, and broader community; recognized as an engaged citizen and mentor for students and faculty colleagues

Last updated: 6/22/18