Study Abroad Scholarship Opportunities for Students Enrolled in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Study Abroad Scholarships</th>
<th>Award Amount</th>
<th>Required Eligibility Criteria</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>LAS International Scholarship</td>
<td>$500</td>
<td>• Participation in a study abroad program</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
| Gary L. and Margaret W. Krull International Scholarship       | $500         | • Participation in a study abroad program offered through Iowa State University
• Sophomore or junior class standing
• Preference to students who are Iowa residents
• Preference to students who are studying in the Greenlee School of Journalism and Communication |
| Trudy Huskamp and Gary Peterson Scholarship for Study Abroad  | $1,000       | • Participation in a study abroad program                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Gittla Murphy Study Abroad Scholarship                        | $350         | • Preference to applicants who are majoring or minoring in women’s studies                                                                                                                                                   |
| Kent and Lou Ann Gerhard Sandburg International Scholarship   | $500         | • Preference to students participating in study abroad program offered through the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences
• Demonstrated financial need
• Junior or Senior class standing
• Preference to those studying abroad for the first time |
| Mapleton Travel Scholarship                                    | $1,000       | • No prior travel abroad experience
• Resident of a rural or small town                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Benzoni Family Study Abroad Scholarship                       | $1,000       | • Participation in a study abroad program offered through Iowa State University
• Demonstrated financial need
• Preference to students studying in Central America, South America or Africa
• Second preference to students participating in experiential learning |
| Morris and Nellie L. Kawaler Foundation Fund for Judaic Studies| $1,000       | • Participation in a study abroad program that furthers the student’s academic education in Judaic Studies                                                                                                                                 |
| James V. Aanstoos and Sarah A. Rajala Endowed Scholarship     | $500 - $1,000| • Participation in a study abroad program
• Enrolled in the Department of Geological and Atmospheric Sciences
• Preference to students with financial need                                                                                                                                                                               |
| LAS Study Abroad Scholarship                                  | $500         | • Participation in a study abroad program                                                                                                                                                                                     |

Applicants must be full-time undergraduate students in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at Iowa State University. Scholarship application deadline is November 1st for Winter Break, Spring Semester and Spring Break programs. Deadline for Summer Semester, Fall Semester, and Academic-Year programs is March 1st. Applications must be submitted electronically through the ISUAbroad website.

Thanks to our generous donors, some awards will be given to multiple applicants. The number of scholarships given and the award amounts may vary. Many awards may be received only once. Questions? Contact Mary Ullestad-Heneke at (515) 294-4841 or maryuh@iastate.edu.